ADVICES from Rome bring official intelligence that the provincial debts of Italy amount to $2,980,500,000, or $103 for each inhabitant, while the national debt is nearly $4,000,000,000. In all, therefore, the obligations of Italy foot up about $7,000,000,000. In the largely increases. This vast debt has been incurred by bankrupt Italy in part by the large sums paid to official es, but mostly by the enormou amount of money wasted in keeping up an army and navy on a scale comport-ing with those of the other members of he Dreibund.

THE English matron objects to the modern fashion of advertising infant foods by means of photographs of lightly-clad babies which have been reared upon them, because, forsooth, in future years when these infant girls, whose dentity is established by the publication of their names beneath the por-trait, become modest maidens, it will be embarrassing to have the young man of the future possess these portraits of the misses in-shirts. In accordance with the decision of the universal postal convention at Vienna, the post office department will ssue a double postal card for internaional use. It consists of two parts, one for the original message and the other for the reply. The cost of the card is four cents and it can be sent to any country in the postal union, now including the Australian colonies. Having adopted the double foreign card, we see no reason why the government should not adopt the improvement for the domestic service. This would be more convenient than the "inclosed

THE COTTON OUT LOOK

St. Lot 18, Sept. 6 .- The Globe-Demoregion, says.

"The cotton reports from correspondents this week are even less favorable than those of last. They vary only in the estimated amount of damage done and in the causes of the damage. In one section worms, in another rust, in one section worms in another rust, in others wet weather, cold weather or drought, and in some worms, rust and bad weather combined have played have with the crop. Few and far between are the reports that may be considered at all favorable. The weather appears to have breft the principal destructive agent. In the Mississippl velley states the cold weather of last these has continued, turning yellow the fields that tait days turning yellow the fields that ten days ago were fresh and green and causing serious sliedding. In the southeastern states it was the wet weather and in Texas the lack of rain that dld the mischief. The boil worms are now almost omnipresent, and have greatly assisted omnipresent, and have greatly assisted the weather in reducing the crop pros-pects, while rust has been an important auxiliary. The most favorable report from Texas states that the field for that particular section will equal last fear's. Reports to this effect come from five points in that state. But the great maority estimate a decrease in the pros-sective yield ranging all the way from pective yield ranging all the way from 15 to 50 per cent. Several correspond-ents say the yield has been cut short fully one-half during the last two weeks by the drought and worms. In Louis-iana considerable of the top crop and some of the middle crop is said to have been lost by shedding. The rust has done great damage, and some destruc-tion by worms is reported. The sudden tion by worms is reported. The sudden changes in the weather from wet to dry, and from hot to chilly, are responsible for the shedding. The loss is placed at from 20 to 40 per cent. The average damage in Mississippi is probably not ander 20 per cent. The most favorable report places it at 15, while the majority of the correspondents estimate the dam-age done at from 20 to 50 per cent. Misissippi, indeed, seems to have suffered more, taking the state as a whole, than any other state. The cold weather, rust and worms are the evils against which the crop has played a losing game. The reports from Arkansas are not all unfavorable, strictly speaking, but they are less favorable than former-ly. Pine Bluff reports the middle crop almost entirely destroyed, but says the crop in that section will be within 5 or 10 per cent of that of last year. The other points in that state report loss, more or less serious, from worms, shedding and rust, the cool weather being mainly responsi-ble for the damage. In Tennes-see the chilly weather has turned the plant brown and caused considerable hedding, and the same agency has changed the conditions in northern Alabama, which last week sent in good reports. This week rust and shedding have materially reduced the crop pros-pects in that section, while in the has reduced the estimates fully 25 per cent. The outlook in Georgia, the Carolinas and Florida is no more encourag-

being unfavorable." United States Treasury Figures Showing the Circulation of the Various Kinds of Money for Thirty Years. WASHINGTON, Sept. 6. - Secretary Fos er, in response to many inquiries from lifferent sections of the Secretary Proctor's Suc WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 .- Private advices received here state that Senator fered the war office, to succeed Seo etary Procter. Gen. Hawley is at Cape May conferring with President Harrison about the matter. Friends of the senator who are familiar with Connecticut politics, and who regard his chances for renomination as against United States senate for the term berinning in 1893, think it very probable that he will accept the offer and be the next secretary of war.

Proposed Strike of Colored Cotton Pickers. GALVESTON, Tex., Sept. 7.—It is said that the colored cotton pickers have or-ganized and that they have agreed not to pick cotton after September 10 for less than one dollar per 100 pounds and government and other officials with great cordiality, and received their active support and co-operation. The government called a public meeting of citizens in the theater at Maranhao, at which Lieut. Sawyer explained the objects and scope of the exposition, and committees were appointed to prepare memorials to the state legislature for an appropriation sufficient to accurs a complete exhibit of its resources.

FREE DELIVERY EXTENSION.

cet false information to the press that the free delivery experiments are 300 a success. He caused an examination of the latest reports from these experiments to be made and found that they succeeded beyond his most sanguin expectations, and in a way utterly to confound the critico of the experiment. It is already as established fact that the increased revenue in those offices where the free felivery experiments is on trial almost pays for the increased expenditure, and it is hoped by judicious management that in the average the experiment will entirely pay for itself, as some of the offices more than do now. Mr. Wanamaker has it definitely in mind to present to the next congress a scheme by which, when a given sum is asked for free delivery in a given community, the free delivery in a given community, the sum being ealeulated on the area to be served, the population and other such items, it is almost a mathematical certainty that a sum almost if not quite as large will be added to the net earnings of the office in question. Even if the free delivery does not quite pay for itself, it is likely that the postmaster-general will ask congress to consider the question whether the rural districts of the country may not properly expect this slight contribution to their postal facilities where in so many quarters, they have up to the present time been considered

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 8.—The senate met yesterday morning and adjourned in observance of Labor day immediately after Mr. Penland's bill to repeal the convict-lesse law had been offered. The Tennessee Coal, Iron & Railroad Co., the lessee of the penitentiary, will to-day, through the chairman of the penitentiary committee of the legislature, submit a proposition to cancel the present contract and make a new one. According to authentic information the lessees agree in this proposition to pay $1 per diem for the labor of each convict, the state to feed and clothe the convicts and bear the expense of NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 8 .- The sentransporting them to and from the main prison. The lessees propose to employ all able-bodied convicts at the mines in Marion, Bledsoe and Sequatchie counties only. They offer to erect a new prison by convict labor at a cost of several hundred thou-sand dollars and confine within its walls all convicts who are not strong

CIRCULAR TO Circular Sent Out by Comptroller Lacey Notifying Bankers that Four and a Half Per Centa are No Longer Available as

Security for Circuli WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Comptroller Lacey has sent a circular letter to banks holding 41/4 per cent. bonds as a basis for circulation, in which he says: "You are respectfully advised that the 1870, and January 30, 1871, now held in trust by the treasurer of the United States as security for the outstanding circulation of your bank, have been called for redemption. as shown by the secretary's circulars of June 2 and September 2, 1891, copies of which I inclose herewith. You will observe that the interest has ceased on these bonds, thereby rendering them under the law, no longer available as security for the irculation of national banks, as only interest-bearing bonds can be so held. Therefore, it becomes necessary that you substitute at least the minimum ount of other bonds without delay. to the banks desiring to sell, redeem or
